

Nachtigal, at the heart of Cameroon's sustainable development

Nachtigal wins 2024 AIFA's Best Energy Project Award

NHPC's Deputy Managing Director receiving Africa Investments Forum & Awards (AIFA)'s prize

The Nachtigal project acknowledged and honored at the international level

On the 6th of November 2024, the Nachtigal project received the prestigious Best Energy & Natural Resources Project Award at the 7th edition of the Africa Investments Forum & Awards in Paris.

The 3 main criteria that enabled Nachtigal to stand out from the other projects nominated in this category were resilience, leadership and impact.

In the current context of climate change and energy transition, receiving such an international award is a great honor for NHPC and all the partners involved in the Nachtigal project. As a reminder, the project also received in 2019 the Project of the Year Award in the category of Multilateral Financing at the PFI Awards in London. This new award strengthens NHPC's commitment and determination to complete the project, making it a reference in Africa and worldwide.

About the Africa Investments Forum & Awards

Each year, the Africa Investments Forum & Awards (AIFA) brings together leading economic and political decision-makers, such as public and private companies' directors, experts and institutional investors from Africa and the European Union for conferences and networking programs dedicated to the African continent's business opportunities, particularly in the energy, infrastructure and urban development sectors.

Besides the conferences, an awards ceremony is organized to honor and reward the continent's best companies and most remarkable projects over the past year. These latter are selected for their performance, as well as for their innovation and forward-thinking strategy, through a rigorous methodology involving an independent jury of 30 experts.
