Claire GALL, the new Managing Director of NHPC

Nominated by the Company's Board of Directors on the 20th of February 2025, Claire GALL is the new Managing Director of NHPC from the 1st of April 2025. Of French origin and seconded by EDF Group, she succeeds Vincent LEROUX, whose four-year term of office has come to an end.

Claire is a graduate of the National School of Statistics and Economic Administration (ENSAE) and holds a Master's degree in Economic Analysis and Policy from the School of Advanced Studies in Social Sciences (EHESS).

She has a wealth of experience in the fields of economic analysis, market regulation, hydropower operation and strategic management of hydropower infrastructure, where she has held managerial positions for the last eight years.

This will not be her first experience in Africa, having started her career in Dakar, Senegal, where she acquired in-depth knowledge of the continent.

She comes to Cameroon with all these assets to take over the reins of NHPC at a key moment, when a new era begins for Nachtigal: operations, following the commissioning last March of its seventh and last unit, bringing its installed capacity to 420MW.

Claire is married with 4 children.

The entire NHPC team welcomes her and wishes her every success in her new role as Managing Director.

Claire GALL, said on her arrival:

« It's with great enthusiasm and pride that I'm joining the Nachtigal adventure, which I've been following closely for several years now.

This project is a real success, and I would like to congratulate my predecessor and all the teams who worked on it during the construction phase.

I recognise the importance of Nachtigal to Cameroon's energy sector. At this strategic moment when the company is entering its operational phase, my mission will be guided by 3 key priorities:

- Ensuring the health and safety of employees and contractors;
- Guarantee our facilities' hydraulic safety;
- Ensuring the company's performance. »
